RIVER ICE YIELDS BODY OF MAN

Body Chopped In Ice Chopped From River

Nimbly working across 100 feet of muddy ice yesterday afternoon, four firemen—one dangling on the end of a 100 foot rope—chopped free body of Max Demmings, 35, from the North Saskatchewan river.

More than 1,000 persons gathered on the deck of the Dawson bridge to watch city firemen, Bruce Effe, clammer along a ladder stretched over the ice and chop the body free.

Demmings resided at 8712 Jasper. He is an air force veteran. Identally was an aide through papers in the pockets. It is believed he fell into the river Saturday night.

The fireman was secured by a safety belt around his waist with a 100 foot rope attached to it and fastened to the deck of the bridge.

CUT BODY FREE

Four sections of ladder were used as supports by the recovery party on the treacherous, soggy ice.

After coping with the jammed ice for more than an hour, fireman Effe cut the body free tied a rope around it and had it hoisted to the surface.

Then the group slowly made its way back toward the ladders towards the shore.

A gasp of shock rose from the knot of spectators gathered on the riverbank as the fireman carried the body to the police wagon on a ladder.

FIRST SIGHTED

Body was first noticed at about 11 p.m. by Phil Lamoureux, of 10423-79 street while crossing the Dawson bridge on his way to church.

All that showed above the ice, he said, was a pair of brown trousers and part of the pant leg.

"I didn't report it to police until 2 p.m. because I wasn't sure it was a body," he stated.

Road Parley Early in '50

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(BUP)—A Dominion-Provincial conference to discuss technical details for construction of the Trans-Canada highway will be held early next year, Reconstruction Minister Robert Winters said today.

Most provinces were planning to start construction work on the $200,000,000 highway next spring, Winters said.

It seemed desirable, to go ahead with legislation and then invite provincial governments to a conference of officials and technicians to discuss technical details, he said.

It was estimated the 3,000 mile highway, running from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, B.C., and crossing Prince Edward Island as well, will cost some $200,000,000. The federal government was proposing to pay half therefore the bill set a limit of $100,000,000 on funds that could be spent.

2 LINES, PAVED

It was suggested the road have a 24-foot-wide, paved surface.

However, it was agreed it should be "a modern first class, hard-surfaced road" wide enough for two lanes of traffic.

Regarding route, it was agreed it should follow "the shortest practical east-west route consistent with the needs of the provinces and Canada as a whole," he said.

Some provinces had already defined the route, while others were waiting for the present bill to be passed.

Other points made by the reconstruction minister:

1. The highway will be property and responsibility of the province, except where it runs through national parks.
2. In addition to the federal government, the federal government will pay the same proportion on existing roads included in the new highway.
3. It must be completed within the next seven years.

Oil-Drilling OK Urged On Council

Commissioners Seek Approval of Wildcat In Sherbrooke Area

The city's first wildcat oil well is in sight.

Immediate zoning bylaw changes, to permit drilling anywhere within city limits subject to provincial regulations, will be recommended to council tonight by city commissioners.

They will suggest that council then give permission to Sherbrooke Land Co. to drill for oil on lots 13 and 15, block 27, of Sherbrooke subdivision.

These lots are located on the south-east corner of the intersection of 135 street and 122 avenue.

Drilling should be carried out so that if oil is discovered, it can be handled as not to interfere with ultimate development of the block.

FOUR-SEK APPROVAL

City treasury would not benefit if the well strikes oil, because the company owns mineral rights on the lots.

But commissioners feel that information obtained by drilling will be of great value in determining the city's oil policy of prospecting during the past two years by at least four different parties owning mineral rights within city limits, with a view to drilling.

Commissioners say "it is necessary that council state its policy as soon as possible."

The city now holds title to surface rights on most lots in Sherbrooke subdivision, which is bounded by 131 street, 122 avenue, St. Albert Trail and 120 avenue.

The proposed well is in a good spot to indicate what hope the city might have of striking oil in other areas.

City council's permission is necessary before the company can ask the provincial government for the necessary drilling license, commissioners say.

Drilling for petroleum substances or natural gas "seems to be a heavy industry" as defined in the city's zoning bylaw, it is no person may carry on a heavy industry except in a heavy industrial area.

At present, the city has no heavy industrial area.

British Columbia's Death Toll Is 14

By Canadian Press

The death toll in British Columbia's worst rain and windstorm mounted today as communications were restored to isolated districts.

It now stands at 14 dead, victims of the sea, floods, and highway accidents, with six other persons reported missing.

On the mainland and on Vancouver Island work crews labored under cloudy skies to restore communications.

The storm with hurricane winds lashed with heavy rains swept the Pacific northwest during the week-end.

Damage totalled millions of dollars in British Columbia alone, with added toll of property and lives in the states of Washington, Oregon and Montana, where eight persons died.

Six of B.C.'s known dead were members of the Ted George McGregor which captained off Victoria Saturday; three persons drowned near Kamloops when their automobile skidded from a rain-soaked highway into Trapp Lake; a man was drowned in the swirling waters of Capilano river in West Vancouver; one man was killed and three others injured when a car crashed into a bridge near Nanaimo, and three persons were missing at Port Alberni, on Vancouver Island after a car plunged into the Alberni canal.

Train service to eastern Canada, both on the CPR and CNR, was halted, both lines cut by rock slides in the Fraser Canyon, 130 miles east of here.

Slide Injures Railman

Railway spokesman refuse to state when the slides, which roared down the mountains following torrential rains, would be cleared. Service may not be restored until tomorrow.

A railway section foreman was injured and his wife also hurt when trapped by a landslide that destroyed their home near Leech, 10 miles east of Hope, 100 miles from Vancouver. Tons of rock and mud swept down the mountainside.

In suburban West Vancouver, where flash floods swept one thousand feet down the mountainside, the height of the slide, but most of the damage, mounting steadily into the millions of dollars, was caused by floods, rockslides and washouts launched by the torrential rains accompanying the storm.

Wildcat Well In City Urged and even then only subject to approval. Provincial regulations allow only one well in each 40 acres, except in surveyed territory where the limit is one well for every legal subdivision.

No well may be drilled within 120 feet of the nearest boundary of petroleum or natural gas rights owned or controlled by operator. No well may be drilled within 300 feet of any road, railway or other right-of-way, dwelling, school or church.

Citing a drilling application on last March by James M. Greger, 1013-1031 avenue, commissioners said his unadvised drilling is not an agricultural use. His home is the only house in it.

Land involved in the Sherbrooke Land Co. application is now zoned for one-family dwellings. No house is located on it.

The city owns parcels of land, such as parks, park lands, river bank area, etc., not within heavy industrial areas, on which drilling could readily be undertaken in compliance with provincial regulations, according to commissioners.

CITY ENABLED TO DRILL

Legislature last spring gave the city a charter amendment permitting it to set up a company to seek minerals under city-owned land within city limits.

Expenditures would be limited to $100,000 annually, with spending in excess of that amount requiring taxpayers' approval.

Now Planning Act requires that any proposed drilling by amendment be submitted by council to the Town Planning Commission for consideration and report, and then it must be approved by the provincial minister of public works.

Commissioners say it is possible that petroleum beds underlie the city and it is important to test underlying geological strata. Tests could be made without city expense, in the case of the Sherbrooke application or similar bills.

Precedent May Be Set Here

It was learned today in government circles that a decision by council to refuse permission to the Sherbrooke Land Co. would likely precede the city's own case at any future time it attempted to enter the oil drilling business.

Since both Sherbrooke application and any application made by the city to drill for oil would go to the same body.

Gas Export Rule Delayed

First hearing before the Alberta Capital Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board on a license to export natural gas from the province was adjourned to December 10 in Calgary today.

Adjustment was requested by the Board's secretary, H. G. Nolan, N.C. acted for the company. One of the chief points the company will be expected to prove when the hearing resumes is that Alberta has sufficient gas reserves to warrant export.

West Coast Transmission Co. will appear before the Board on December 15, also seeking license to export natural gas.

Wheat Acreage Up But Yield Drops

Alberta Field Crops Report
Released By Ottawa Bureau

Rent Hike Hits Many

Impact of recently authorized rent hikes will fall most heavily on those least able to afford them. Mayor Sid Parsons reported today on his return from Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities executive meeting in Toronto.

All municipal bodies should press provincial governments to take over rent controls until housing supply catches up with demand, the federation decided.

Municipal authorities represented at the one-day session are worried that provincial governments may delay action on one of the new federal housing plan as much as two years.

REMOVAL ASKED
Proposed minimum of four per cent of total assessment clause should be removed from the federal plan to pay municipalities grants-in-lieu of taxation on federally-owned property located in those municipalities, the executive decided.

The low income group has been singled out to pay an economic penalty (in rent hikes) for a situation it has been unable to prevent, the meeting felt, the mayor said.

"Rents of $60 and $65 are out of reach of the average wage-earning family," said Mayor Parsons.

CCF Attitude
The CCF thinks Alberta should take over control of rent in the province in a move to "escape" the federal government's 20 and 25 per cent limits set for Dec. 31.

Elmer E. Roper, provincial leader of the CCF, said today in a statement, his party was strongly urging the Alberta government to follow Saskatchewan's lead in agreeing to accept responsibility for rent control.

Saskatchewan last week announced willingness to enter the rent control field April 1.

Auto Tests Discussion

Alberta's 50 Social Credit MLAs opened discussions today at the legislative building in their fall session.

The meeting will continue tomorrow.

All Social Credit members of the legislature are present, except A. V. Bourcier, member for Lac Ste. Anne, who was barred from caucus a year ago.

Probably the biggest question for caucus to consider during the session is whether or not the provincial government should assume rent control.

Advocability of conducting tests for car drivers is another problem reportedly being considered by the MLAs.

Resolutions passed at the Social Credit convention last week will also be considered.

At that time holds Echnner, now his bride, was married there to a distant relative of his.

After 20 years of farming and the raising of a family of eight, Tober retired, gave his Alberta land to his children and bought a four-acre prairie farm near Chilliwack. His wife died last May after 46 years of marriage.

A brother-in-law reported word of Tober's widow for 17 years, a new arrival in the United States, living there with a son.

A correspondence developed. Proposal was accepted.

Women In Crew Saved From Ship

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 28.—(RUP)—The 2,881-ton British freighter Briton ran aground in rough seas off the south Swedish coast last night. Its 28 crew members abandoned ship.

Eleven crew members who reached shore in one of the Briton's lifeboats reported the ship was still afloat but was heavily damaged. Three women were among the 11. They said the remaining 27 crew members were aboard a motorboat.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Burt Lancaster tells how he was able to avoid "going Hollywood."
"I was luckier than most," he said. "I didn't come to Hollywood until I was 32 years old."
"You might say I had my abnormal days before I came here. The very young people who come here..."
Intoxicated with the excitement and glamor, Hollywood has never bowled me over.
"The only thing I've gotten out of Hollywood is a better living. And I'm doing the kind of work I like. I don't separate my career and marriage. Why should I? That's the reason a man gets married—to share his work with his wife. Hollywood is no threat to our marriage."
"My kids are too young yet to be affected either way by Hollywood. No doubt some day the fact that their father is a movie star will influence their lives somewhat. I can just hope that they will be intelligent enough to overcome it."
CLOSED SETS
Do you know what a "closed set" is? Well, it's one of the occupational hazards of a movie reporter. It happens when the producer, director or star puts a "no admittance" sign on the stage door.
Naturally, I'm again "in." But there are two sides to every coin and here is the actor, as presented by Joseph Cotten:
"Visitors are okay when you have a large set with several people working in the scene. Then the spectators have plenty to look at without concentrating on one object or actor."
"But it's tough to be doing an intimate shot and have people constantly looking up and down in your line of vision. Imagine yourself trying to tell a story with 15 persons breathing down your neck."
"Love scenes are especially hard to do on a crowded set. Visitors are naturally keen to see the hero plant a big kiss on the airily racy lips. They crowd in closer for a good look."
"For example, the other day I was playing a love scene with Jean Fontaine in 'September'. We were playing to a packed house and the visitors kept moving in closer. When we came to the climax, I almost found myself kissing a school teacher from Milwaukee."
Most stars are of constant merriment, but some, known as variables, vary in brightness periodically.

BRIDGE Sacrifice Bidding Is Often Worth While

By William E. McKeeney

A trip to New York by any bridge player would not be complete without a visit to the Mayfair Bridge Club. It is operated by Harry J. Fishbein and Mrs. Phyllis Schellenberg. Fishbein is one of the most popular bridge players in the country.

I was over to his club the other night and picked up six hands from different groups and I think you will enjoy them. This is the first hand, brings out the point of sacrifice bidding.

Lesson on Bidding—E-W vul.

Opening—AK 75

As this is a bidding hand I do not want to justify North's bid, but there are many good players who will risk a light bid, especially in third position. East realized that North's bid could mean little or nothing and rather than double he wanted to show the real strength of his hand with a bid of two no trump.

When West bid three no trump, North felt his hand justified a sacrifice bid. In other words, West will overbid even though he knows he will go down. He feels sure he will lose less this way rather than letting his opponents make a game.

The hand today has a good point in play. East cashed the king of clubs and shifted to the four of diamonds. Declarer played low from dummy and West made the mistake of going up with the queen. North won with the king. He immediately returned a diamond and finessed the ten spot.

On the ace of diamonds, declarer discarded a spade.
A spade was played from dummy. The rule says "second hand low," but does not always apply. If West had jumped up with the jack of spades and led a heart the hand would have been down several tricks more, but West correctly played a low spade. East was forced to win the trick with the king. He returned the fourth diamond.

Now you can see that the declarer can cross-ruff the hand out and the only tricks that East did make were the king of clubs, two heart tricks and the king of spades, setting the hand only one trick.

Sugar Interests Fight To Defeat U.K. Labor

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Socialist speakers stole the political spotlight today in frankly-electoral speeches.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, spoke in Bristol East, and charged the British right-wing press with attempts to drive the workers into the arms of the Conservative Party.

Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, told a political rally in Birmingham that the Conservatives are trying to "ruin and belly" the Liberalism of the election race. Reaction was boiling up to a statement by Morrison that "big business" is spending money in the hope of electing anti-labor candidates.

Tate and Lyle, Limited, sugar refiners, have been conducting a large-scale advertising campaign against the avowed Labor intention to nationalize the sugar industry. "We intend to extend our campaign immediately and possibly to organize a nationwide petition to test the will of the people about what Mr. Morrison says as to the sugar industry."

Edmonton daddies can expect a swell time Christmas Day. Salesclerk Donna Langford shows some breath-taking trains, cars and the like all ready for the stockings. Other thrills-shoppers are fire trucks, white but-clang and sirens howl, model filling stations and rocket guns. There's even a railway station where arrivals and departures are announced.

Sales clerk Joan Eggen displayed something new in Christmas plant containers resembling turkeys, ducks, sleighs and Santa Claus boats.

Mostly About Books

What books do youngsters between six and 12 like to read? Grace McDonald in Edmonton public library children's department might surprise you with her answer. She says scientific books are hot favorites.

Books "seller" at the moment is "Rocket Ship Galileo," thrilling story of the first trip from mother earth to Mars.

Edmonton Knights of Columbus were a "corrupt" looking bunch at their regular meeting last week. Grand Knight Tom Kelly and recording secretary Norman McIntyre blamed it on tobaccoist Jack Avery.

Ayer played Santa Claus ahead of time by presenting every member of the club with a cornucopia of food.

"Jay" Lieberman is sure there never will be another picture like "Gone With the Wind." It's here once again, this time at the Kialto, with the same old results—standing room only.

Barister "Wally" Beaumont applauds agitation for greater care in the issuing of automobile drivers' licenses. Beaumont says the present system is "a mess" and that license application forms of "Are you familiar with the Alberta Motor Vehicle Traffic Act?" He has yet to be turned down.

Elegant Elsie, our favorite waitress, says she's worried sick about dogs, dead ducks and goats driving cars. She said an old goat wanted to drive her home the other night, but she turned him down.

A lady sales clerk in a food store grocery store phoned about a motorist-customer who gets her to count his money when he makes a purchase. She says the man is nearly blind.

I think police traffic sergeant Albert Woodward rates an orchid for timely telephone warnings to taxi cabs on mornings when streets are dangerously icy. We'll also take a sweet-scented police to transit system superintendent Thomas Perrier for signs in trolley buses warning against danger of broken arms from sticking same out windows.

T. M. White, who works at Swift Canadian Co. Edmonton plant, used his head to solve his laundering problem. He won a brand new automatic ironer in a recent suggestion contest for employees.

Acting Mayor J. C. Freedy Mitchell has been in the rumble on the tennis courts. One night last week he proved equally adroit at jumping around to three civic lions after a billiard game. The Lions Club's annual feast covered hospital board meeting, civic union dinner and mining industry blowout.

Miscellaneous

That rumble you hear isn't an approaching tornado. It's just Lin Bell bragging about the Calder Community League. The Calder League, under President Bob Decker, has done a great job of the youngsters, says Lin. Juvenile delinquency is almost a thing of the past in railway community of 7,000 because of gym classes, baseball, hockey and the like.

General secretary of Edmonton YMCA Club Ready tells me that muscle moulder George "Dick" Diamantides is making a terrific hit with the boys over at the "X" gym. Diamantides comes all the way from Greece to the Legion club to sponsor characters as Atlas, Hercules and Edmondson's Con Johnson.

Who would pay $20 for a cup and saucer? I didn't think anyone would, but antique dealer Samuel Cohen put me right. Cohen, who operates the Old Curiosity Shop on Jasper Avenue East, says tourists (chiefly Americans) grab up expensive tea things in a hurry.

EDMONTON Legion club will sponsor a Town Meeting of the Air broadcast from Station CKUA on Dec. 12. Show will be presented in sales pavilion starting at 8 p.m.

Edmonton district council of Alberta Boy Scouts association holds its annual meeting in Moose Temple this evening starting at 8 o'clock.

Piano Team Is Delightful

Two bright spots came alight on Edmonton's musical horizon last night.

They were the two-piano team of Dorothy Rogers and Allan Young, who played at the second recital of the University of Alberta.

Sharing the program was mezzo-soprano Vera Verba. Last night's performance marked the first time the two pianos have appeared before a city audience. It was a great beginning for the keyboard team.

They played two Bach compositions, the Joy of Mary's Desiring, and "Sleep My Sweet Dream," and Brahms' Variations on a Theme by Haydn.

Good Balance

The Bach was splendidly done. With lovely tone, good balance between the two pianos, adequate technical ability, and musical understanding, they captured the rich beauty of the two pieces and gave the audience some delightful musical moments.

The variations weren't quite so skillfully performed technically, but were enjoyable.

Mrs. Weaver wasn't as good as usual, and didn't quite measure up to the standards that have given her the reputation of being one of Edmonton's rising young singers.

Her singing was too throaty, which muffled the lyrics of several songs. There was this at times, and

7 Injured Boy Shot

Accidents in Edmonton over the week-end injured eight persons. Seven were hurt in traffic accidents and an Edmonton youth was accidentally shot in the leg.

Haight was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital in elite ambulance at 3 p.m. yesterday after having been shot accidentally in the leg by a friend.

Haight, student at Riverside school, was walking along the bank of the North Saskatchewan River when he was struck by the stray bullet.

Police said a number of youngsters were shooting on the top of a nearby hill. The last condition was described as good this morning.

HURT AT INTERSECTION

Jack Young was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital by Smith's Ambulance at 4:45 p.m. Saturday after having been struck by a car at 214 street and 104 avenue.

Police said a car driven by Ray S. Ellis of 303-111 avenue struck Young while he was crossing the intersection of 214 street and 104 avenue.

Minor cuts to the head and hands were sustained by Anne Kiddie, 1288-28 street, when two cars collided at 96 street and 104 avenue. Kiddie was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

REPORT DRIVER ASLEEP

William Huff was admitted to University Hospital Saturday after a traffic accident on 214 street between 89 and 90 avenues. Police said Huff fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

A tail driver was arrested and charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident. In police charge was a driver who crashed his car on 107 street near 223 avenue.

Alexandra hospital suffering from a possible fractured skull and lacerated ear.

Seven-year-old Sunny Jim Swinton, 1004-56 street, was taken to St. Mary's hospital Saturday after a traffic accident on 104 avenue.

A car driven by Mr. Swinton collided with an auto driven by LAC C. A. Pearson, RCMP Station, Edmonton, Friday at 10:30 p.m. at 96 street and 104 avenue.

Attempt To Pass Phoney $100 Bill

City police are seeking a young man who reportedly attempted to pass a counterfeit $100 bill last night.

Mike Kuey, of the Star hotel, was immediately suspicious and called to give him the bill in cash and a receipt for $100. When he reached for the phone to telephone police, a young man asked the waiter if he was described as about 20 years, 5 feet 6 inches tall, wearing a brown shirt and grey pants and had a medium complexion.

Buzzing Bees a Problem In Department's Bonnett

By Art Effer Bulletin Staff Writer

Is a bee a fur-bearing animal or a pest? It's on the level, and on a par with some of the powers listed in the city building inspector's department.

Like the Angora rabbit deal, it is a fur-bearing animal if you please. Or does it apply only to those you skin—for their fur?

Stickers like this have to be settled before building permits can be issued and unloading space a bank building needs. The building by

Chicagoats Grow up on Day To Grow Farmer in Log Cabin

Edmonton Bulletin Photo of Chicagoats growing up on day to grow farmer in log cabin.

GREAT INTEREST in reports of animals getting drivers' licenses was evidenced by Tuffy, 6-month-old bear cub, who just blew in from Slave Lake with his master, Richard Gray, 9127-83 avenue. Tuffy saw Bulletin stories on case of getting driver's permit in Alberta but doubts if he will bother just now—he's under age.

Gentlemanly Bear Shares Truck Cab For Journey

By Don Travis Bulletin Staff Reporter

Richard (Smoko) Gray hit town over the weekend with Tuffy, his pet bear, but Gray denied a report he had come down from Slave Lake to get Tuffy a driver's license.

Mr. Gray, an oil well supply worker, and Tuffy occupied the cab of the same truck on the 200 mile trip to Edmonton.

Mr. Gray did the driving. A big thrill was when they went into a downtown restaurant yesterday for something to eat.

"Tuffy behaved like a gentleman and had a ham sandwich," said Gray.

This isn't the first time Tuffy's master has had experience with pet cubs either. Four years ago he had two bear cubs while working on the Athabasca highway. The pair's mother had been shot.

"When we got these two cubs we really tried to keep them alive," he said. One of the cub's mother, even drove 400 miles to a general store to get a rubber plug, and the cubs could be fed, Gray related.

BECAME FUR One died of pneumonia and the other was shot because it was becoming ferocious.

The future is not in store for Tuffy, however, Gray hopes. Plans are not definite for the six-month-old cub, but it could be kept at Gray's home at 9127-83 avenue. Tuffy's mother will be kept in Calgary too.

Overturned Taxi Pins Passenger

Rose Gilbert, 585-6 street, received minor injuries when pinned over an overturned cab on Saturday.

Driver of the cab, Bob Lodge, of Edmonton, was uninjured.

Top of the taxi was crushed in. Car overturned on a curve immediately following the Oliver memorial hospital.

The passenger was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital in Jack Hall's ambulance. She was released after treatment for a cut leg.

Spedden District Boy, 21, Harvests Homestead Prize

Sydney H. Pawlowicz, 21-year-old farmer of Spedden, Alta., district who was named world oats king at the Chicago grain and hay show Saturday decided to enter his prize-winning exhibit only 10 days before the fair's entry deadline.

The tall, blonde Polish-Ukrainian farmer with a brother the three-quarter section of land on which his father settled in 1905, about 113 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The Pawlowicz family, seven boys and four girls, have enjoyed considerable success in past grain shows. Their success is an outstanding example of perseverance over hardship in a rolling and rocky soil environment.

The children all grew up in a cramped, two-room log cabin. The lumber and other work were done with and plaster. Only a few years ago the original farm home was replaced by an 11-room stone house. And until this year all the farm work was done with horses.

VERMILION GRAD Olga Marie Pawlowicz, 19-year-old sister of Sydney, said her brother wrote her recently that he had only 10 days left to enter the Chicago show but he intended to send an exhibit—his first to a national grain show.

Sydney, recent graduate of the Vermilion School of Agriculture where he took two years of instruction in one, became the Chicago oats king with his Victory variety sowing weighing 34 pounds a bushel. Previously he had always placed high in Alberta junior seed fairs, following the example of his elder brothers.

Olga, who is in Edmonton to embark on a nursing career, said that for the last two years she has been provincial oats queen at the Alberta Junior Seed Fair. Sydney was champion in the boys' division three years ago, she said.

"Sydney is an excellent agricultural student at Guelph, Ont. next year," she said. "Our brother Andy now is taking his second year there. Sydney said he did not enter the Toronto Winter Fair last year because he had no time. He worked with his brother Frank on the farm this year following his one year at Vermilion."

In 1940, her brother Paul won the oats championship at Chicago, Olga said. He now is a grain runner agent at Alberta, and they retired one year ago and reside in the city.

Except for their oats, which averaged 50 bushels per acre, the Pawlowicz had a "very poor" grain crop during the last year.

Repeats His Win Made At Toronto

Albert Kessel, of Hesterton, Sask., bachelor veteran of First World War, won the oat championship at Chicago last year. He moved to Edmonton in 1941.

Mr. Kessel sent to the Chicago show a sample of the same variety of oat—Profile—with which he won the world title last year. He told World War fair this year.

Mr. Kessel has been nurturing championship strains of seed grain for several years. He farms 40 acres at Valley Centre. He studied field husbandry under John Hesterton, former leader of the Progressive Conservative party, when Mr. Kessel was a professor at the University of Manitoba.

Woman Repeats With Wheat Prize

At Erickson, B.C., Mrs. Mary Grace Kelley, was elected to win the title of world wheat queen at the Chicago exhibition. The 36-year-old woman, who took the same award in 1946, is the only woman ever to win the coveted prize.

Mrs. Kelley indicated she may end her wheat-growing days in the hard red spring wheat, grown on an experimental plot, weighed 60 pounds to the bushel. She was named world wheat champion Nov. 15 at Toronto.

Santa's Brownies Give Good Behaviour News

By Ben Thrifty

Santa's Brownie Chief-of-Staff announced today that pre-Christmas good behaviour of little people surpasses previous records by far.

And it's a good thing "cause Santa's toys are costing the old dad a powerful lot of money this high-cost year. Young'uns will have to really mind their P's and Q's if they want a sack full of goodies deposited under the family tree come Christmas eve.

A lot of Daddy's and Mommy's just don't have enough gold, silver, dollars stashed away to help Santa buy all the toys Junior has his heart set on... but they try.

Sugar 'n' spice 'n' everything nice
That's what little girls are made of.

Little girls also like to play grown-up and bake cakes of sugar 'n' spice 'n' everything nice. And Christmas morning is full of miniature kitchen equipment from rolling pin to an automatic refrigerator.

Tiny kitchen cabinets, complete with minute packages of soda, vanilla, tea, coffee, dishes, cutlery inside the cupboards and drawers sell for $175. These are about eight inches wide and ten inches high.

Gleaming pseudo-enamel stove is a major triumph for a Junior housekeeper. It has clock, timer, broiler, glass-enclosed oven, stove, drawers, table-top... and around have all these for the $6.95 price set.

Others, in smaller editions sell at prices ranging right down to $1.69 per piece... aren't I punny?

Dollhouse versions of latest decorators' design, sets in room sets at prices running from $1.49 for dollhouse, including bed, dresser, $1.79 for twin-bedded boudoir set. Living room and bedroom and dining room ensembles are of mahogany-plastic and are cute as buttons.

Assortment of stuffed toys is good but prices are bad. In some cases you'll find some dear little lamb, rabbit, teddy bears for the little at $1.50.

Bricks under to the higher-bracket animal kingdom with woolly lamb selling at $9.95... and a big wavy lamb... $12.95. A large ferocious looking Boston bull dog caught my fancy... but I winced with dread when the price was quoted... $9.95. It was... $9.95. I could almost buy a real live puppy for that... a pedigree dog.

I simply must mention the roster of miscellaneous kits, sewing kits, canister sets, electric irons that really work, washing machines, cleaning boards, baby bassinets, doll-dresses, vacuum cleaners... everything a tiny maid could wish for... at a price of course.

Ship 'n' snail 'n' puppy dog... talk...

That's what little boys are made of.

I suppose that's what makes little boys love guns, trucks, fire-engines, racing sets, electric trains, model sets, mecano construction sets. There's a pretty snail Dick Tracy squad car that boasts an authentic alarm, runs about at a terrific wind-up speed and sells for $13.55. It is about 10 inches long, has Dick Tracy characters hanging out, and winds on all sides of the car. It's a real super-sound...

Six-year-old Sam will ride the range for sure when he and his sports a real radio-tele-phonograph... in all-glass outfit under the Xmas tree which that important car.

It's a Gene Auto double-holster and with belt, gun-holder and toy gun. Some sets sell for $4.95 with four-furnished holster. The $6.95 ensemble boasts two-tone leather and a mighty dangerous looking set of weapons parader.

The price sound, like a real hold-up doesn't it?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Childish Habits Will Disappear With Age

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Here is a mother who bewailed her son's poor toilet habits and felt sure they would never be ended. She appreciated a letter of encouragement and writes, "We now have a big boy and ask to go to toilet and if there is an accident, we are terribly, terribly sorry. When you bade me be patient, you were so right."

This is heartening to hear and motivates the answer to the next letter on the same subject. Mrs. M. J. writes, "My little girl is two years old and loves to go to toilet a few nights when she has been dry. I have tried taking her to the toilet three times in the night and still she is wet in the morning."

"I tried to ignore the wet potty, but I tried, indeed, but nothing does any good. She is fine in the daytime and I was always proud of her for that, but is there any way I can stop the bed-wetting? Even when I give her limited amounts of liquids she is still wet by morning."

She is still in the bed-wetting period. Not until the age of three or more can you, or should you, expect perfect nightingale. Some children manage it earlier, just as some children get their teeth earlier, or walk or talk earlier. It is largely a matter of development, unless there are emotional factors, which I have said could continue in this pattern. Show her to your only child and probably gets plenty of love and attention. It is expected that when she can be dry she will be.

It is right to continue to put the

WHY GROW OLD

Thoughts Influence Exterior Beauty Too

By Josephine Lowman

Our thoughts have a greater influence on our appearance and our happiness than most of us realize.

We hear this over and over, again and yet few of us take this to heart. We know it, but we live it but not enough to make the control of our thoughts a conscious part of our everyday lives. How can we when we dash through each day as though it were some sort of a marathon race? Prayer does this for one.

It is an experience which provides stimulation for controlled emotions and thoughts. Even those who do not pray in the conventional sense need minutes alone in complete relaxation when the hectic pace of life falls into place and one achieves a semblance of peace and beauty and symmetry in living.

Our two-point scales for each time one must plan for them. You cannot very well come in contact with the "real" life when the pipe is burning, a child is crying or one's husband says "We must leave in 10 minutes." Probably the best time for the busy housewife is late evening, after the last chore is done and the last child is tucked in bed. It helps to think of it as a revivifying experience if you think in youth's terms.

Old Capital

Williamsburg, Va., had its origin as "Middle Plantation," an outpost of Jamestown, in 1632. When the capital of the colony was removed from Jamestown in 1699, the city was laid out and named Williamsburg in honor of William III. It continued to be the capital for 80 years.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Men Agree on Many Feminine Qualities

A girl asks me what qualities men like best in women. That's a hard question to answer because men's tastes in women differ as widely as men's tastes in neckties, and a girl who attracts one man and sets his pulses a-flutter falls flat with another and leaves him cold.

And that is the mercy of Heaven to women, or else one class of women would be polyandrites and the others all old maids. There are, however, a few charms and virtues in the feminine sex upon which practically all men unite, and which they universally admire.

The first of these is womanliness, which in its last analysis is doubtless sex appeal. At any rate, whenever you find a girl about whom men flock like flies around a honey pot, or a widow who has always been able to marry as often as the occasion demanded, you will always find that she is a woman in whom femininity has been raised to the 'high power.'

If a girl has this mysterious quality, she does not need to possess either beauty or brains. Wherever she goes men will rise up to the earth to make dates with her, and open windows for her, and carry her bundles for her, and marry her, and spend the balance of their lives paying her bills.

NO LOUD TALKERS Next to womanliness men like gentleness in a woman. Never yet have I seen a man who admired an aggressive woman, or a loud-talking woman, or a vituperative woman, or one who told amusements, or who swore and cursed, or a hard-boiled woman.

Sometimes men amuse themselves with a girl who is a wire-cracker, or the girl who boasts that she is sophisticated and has situations left, or the girl who is cold and selfish and grasping, or the one who tells risqué stories, or the kind girl who is the life of the party.

Men like modesty in a woman

Christmas Roses Bloom On New Hats

I expect some of you expect garden clubbers will pick me up on "Christmas roses." Yes, I know Christmas roses are not roses at all but bellflowers. I'm just borrowing a pretty name for a pretty new hat fashion—rose-trimmed pastel color hats.

Most of these are pink-in-felt or velours, and even in satin or taffeta ribbon with matching pink roses. But white hats with white roses

Storms Delay Island Wildcat

By Don Flach

Storms on the Pacific coast over the last several days have delayed start on Royalty's wildcat test well on Graham Island in the Queen Charlotte Islands. About 75 per cent rigged, well is waiting on last boatload of equipment to arrive from Prince Rupert.

Meanwhile, Royalty has abandoned one well and started another. Royalty Conant has been abandoned after drilling into the Cambrian at 5,617 feet and bottoming in 5,673 feet without finding oil.

SOUTH OF TURNER

The new start is Royalty-South of Turner. No. 1 on 31-131-19-W-2, about eight miles south of the south end of the Turner Valley producing area. Contractors are McIntyre and Webster Drilling Company.

Texaco-McColl has completed another Redwater producer, its 10th in the field, and two more are nearing the producing stage.

The latest well is C-3, which has established initial production of 25 barrels daily without water. C-3 is being drilled with bottom hole depth of 13,125 feet. It is being drilled to a depth of 13,125 feet above the water level on the east flank, but not necessarily to the bottom. It is going to perforate the 13-125 interval, from 13,125 to 13,000 feet.

Superior Texaco Hanbury No. 1 is a gas flow of 4,300 cubic feet daily from the Viking sand zone 2,111 feet. Well is 15 miles from the Viking-Kinsella section and is now drilling at 342 feet. No. 1 is now drilling at 342 feet. No. 1 is now drilling at 342 feet.

Imperial has completed its first well in the Imperial field. The well is 15 miles from the Viking-Kinsella section and is now drilling at 342 feet.

Gold Turn Weak In Bull Trading

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Gold advanced steadily in comparatively dull trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Selling pressure increased on the mining board with base metals also following the downward gold trend.

Industrial sales in early declines, but began a recovery towards the close, while western oil opened higher and slipped into the minus column as the session progressed. Volume was about 475,000 shares.

Seniors dropped fractions on gold with loans ranging up to 10 cents over a wide list of issues produced.

Declines about tripled advances.

Laboratory Mining and Exploration

features a weaker base metal list. Early activity carried the stock to a gain of 40 cents but mid-session trading sales pushed the price sharply downward. News of plans to develop the Labrador quarry spurred the activity in the issue.

Leading base metals sagged

sharply from opening straddles activity was light on the down-
